

Brad Smith
Senior Vice President and General Manager
Small Business Division

Brad Smith is senior vice president and general manager of Intuit's Small Business Division. Appointed to this position in May 2006, Smith is responsible for the company's portfolio of QuickBooks, Quicken and Payroll products, serving 7 million small businesses and producing $1.1 billion in revenue. With more than 2,500 employees, the division is Intuit's largest business unit. He previously ran the company's QuickBooks Group from May 2005 to May 2006.

Before moving to QuickBooks, Smith led the company's Consumer Tax Group in San Diego from March 2004 through May 2005. The group produces TurboTax, the nation's leading consumer tax preparation software, serving more than 20 million tax filers and producing more than $500 million in revenue.

Previously, he was vice president and general manager of Intuit's Accountant Central and Developer Network in Plano, Texas. Before joining Intuit in February 2003, Smith was senior vice president of marketing and business development at ADP. He has also held various sales, marketing and general management positions with Pepsi, Seven-Up and Advo, Inc.

Smith earned his master's degree in management from Aquinas College and a bachelor's in business administration from Marshall University.